THAW'S CASE TO GOVERNOR

New York Officials Will Take Up Matter of Extradition.

DEFER HEARING IN COLEBROOK COURT

Thaw's Lawyers Fear Client May Be Seized and Hurried from State.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 12.—The next legal battle in the case of Harry K. Thaw will probable be at Concord, N. H., before Gov. Felker. The fugitive's lawyers, learning today that an extradition warrant from Acting Governor Glynn, of New York, was on the way to the New Hampshire capital, decided to defer arraigning Thaw in police court here and demand a hearing of the governor before he acts on the matter of extradition. They sent a representative to Concord to confer with Felker and reinforced their appeal by telegraph.

Thaw in the meantime is here in the custody of Sheriff Drew. He was to have been arraigned at 10 o'clock this morning but his counsel, after trying vainly to persuade William Travers Jerome not to seize Thaw instantly should the warrant from New York be honored at once, deferred bringing him to court on the ground that a preliminary hearing would bring no good results. In fact it might mean his liberation with incident possibilities of his seizure.

Shortly after noon it was announced by mutual consent of counsel the hearing has been held over till tomorrow.

Fear an Attempt to Rescue.

Thaw was carefully guarded today by ten of the twenty special policemen sworn in by Chief Kelley. Thaw slept well during the second night of his detention in the Monadnock house. Four armed guards sat just outside his door throughout the night, others paced about the corridors and around the building. Talk of plots and counter plots to kidnap him were still in the air today and every time an automobile whizzed down the street with muffler open the guards tightened their grip on their automatic pistols. The pro-Thaw Canadian contingent which followed him over the border after his sudden deportation to Norton Mills, Vt., was somewhat depleted today, although more than a dozen were waiting the outcome of the court procedure.

While residents of Colebrook are evincing great interest in the case they have taken no open stand either for or against the fugitive. Shortly after rising this morning and before going to the barber shop to be shaved, Thaw issued a formal statement summing up his case and lamenting the fact that New York state was spending so much money on him.

Thaw's Statement.

The statement follows:

"I think the people of my own state would like to know by what warrant of law or common sense the money of the people of the state of New York is being squandered like water by many more thousands of dollars than are available to me in these persistent and unscrupulous efforts to return me to Matteawan.

"If I am sane then certainly I don't belong to Matteawan, if I were insane then the laws of New York state itself make it compulsory that I be deported

HIGH SPEED GETS BLAME

Committee of Engineers Tell New Haven New Road What's Wrong.

POINT TO PERIOD OF SAFE RUNNING

Locomotive Drivers Declare Efficiency on Road is Demoralized.

New Haven, Sept. 12.—The official committee of locomotive engineers told the management of the New Haven railroad today what they considered the trouble with the road. "Too much pressure for speed" is their complaint. The committee's statement in part is:

"Why does not the New Haven go back to the conditions prior to the fall of 1911 without attempting these proposed radical changes in relation to its engineers? Under the same rules of operation, the New Haven from 1901 to 1911 was as safe as any in the country. The present 'seniority rule' was made in 1901. The personnel of the engineers is virtually the same today as immediately prior to 1911.

"For eight years or thereabouts the New Haven was operated safely. It carried more than five hundred million persons with only one fatality. In the fall of 1911 came a change. Henry J. Horn, general manager, ordered that engineers make time. 'Time must be made,' the order read. If an engineer was a minute late he was jacked up. The first time his engine ran by a signal the engineer was summarily dismissed.

"The ambition was to make a record of trains on time over any railroad in the country. The orders put out in the fall of 1911 made New Haven travel unsafe and demoralized the esprit de corps."

EXPLORERS ARE BELIEVED DEAD

Chicago Men at Work on the Amazon Headquarters Probably Slain.

VICTIMS OF INDIANS

Chicago, Sept. 12.—William L. Page and Wilber F. Cromer, of Chicago, who were commissioned to explore the headwaters of the Amazon, are believed by relatives to have been slain by natives. Advices received today from the Peruvian government state that a search expedition found a group of Indians in possession of the guns, baggage and other property.

The head of the relief expedition reported to the Peruvian government: "I believe that the Americans have been victims of foul play as it seems impossible that they should have given up their arms and baggage while on a trip of this kind."

The last direct word received from the pair reached Chicago on February 3. The letter was dated from Cajabamba.

The Americans attempted to lay out a trail between the old Incas cities of Chiquita and Pajalen.

FIRE DEPARTMENT IS NON-PARTISAN; MAKE ENTIRE CITY GOVERNMENT SO

(By the Non-Partisan City Central Committee.)

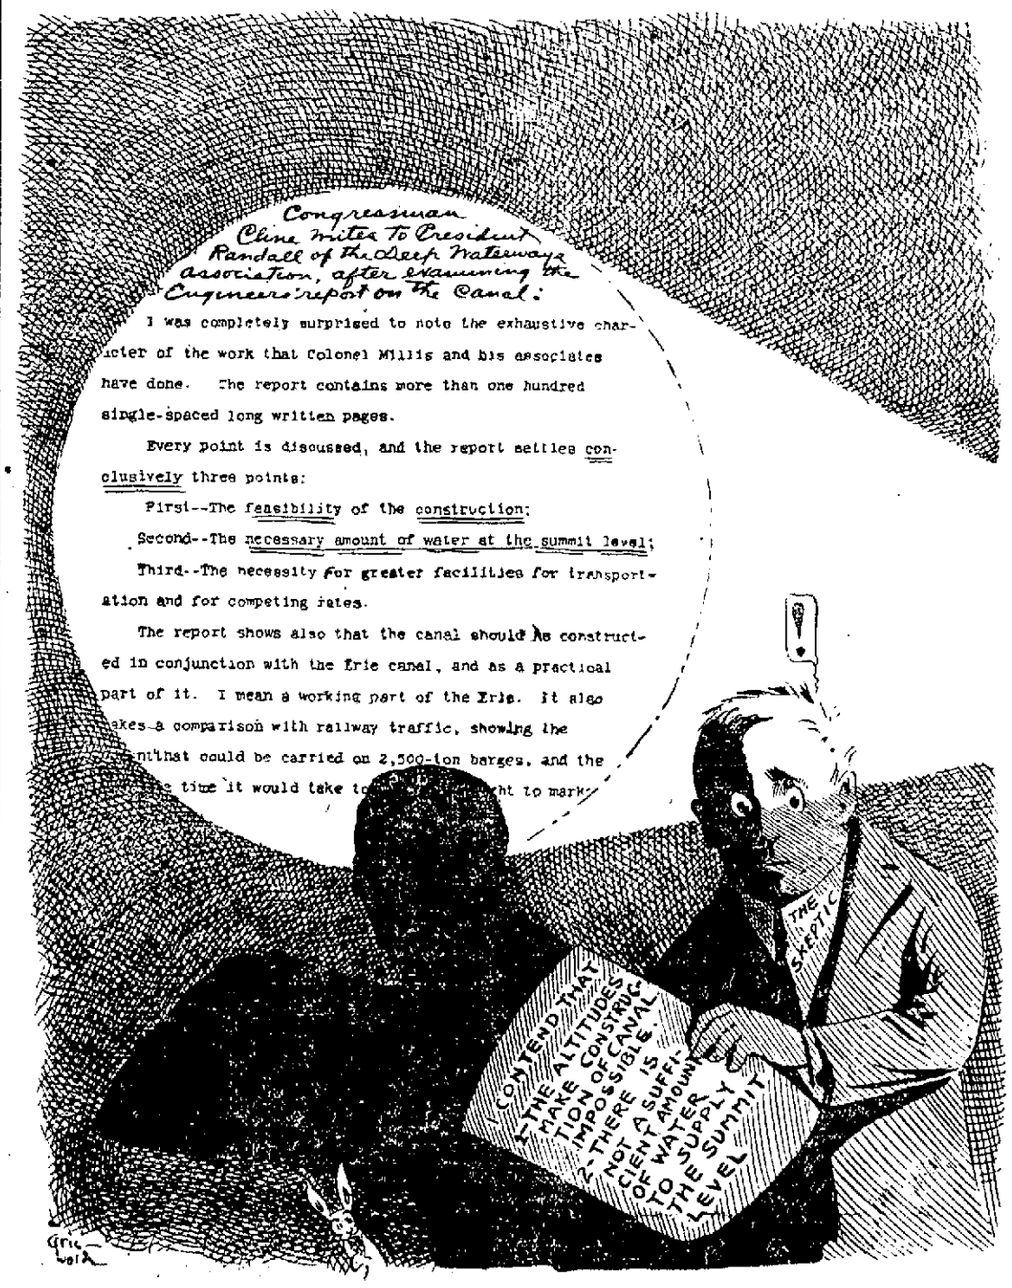
To the Voters of the City of Fort Wayne:

For some years the Fort Wayne Fire Department has been unmolested by municipal politics. Do you know why? Ask the first fire underwriter you meet. He will tell you that fire insurance companies have higher premium rates in cities where politicians and spoilsmen are permitted to disorganize the fire department every time there is a change of administration and times between. A political fire department is not an efficient fire department. It lacks good equipment and is not manned by carefully chosen, ably directed and experienced fire fighters. Insurance companies grade their premiums according to risk. A city's facilities for preventing and fighting fire are vital factors in determining insurance premiums. So it is that those who carry insurance on their property are brought by their own common sense and the pressure of rates to protest against what increases their perils from fire and adds to the cost of protection. They refuse to be exposed to losses or to be mulcted for protection against them, in order that there may be partisan exploitation of the fire department.

Let an administration in Fort Wayne begin to tear up the fire department and run it on a partisan basis and you will behold a general uprising by merchants, manufacturers, capitalists and a vast majority of the 90 per cent of householders who own their homes. Such an administration would almost be mobbed. The fire risk companies, business men and home owners have driven politics out of fire departments all over the country. They have done it in Fort Wayne. They have compelled municipal government to put fire departments on the merit system so that trained and faithful fire fighters cannot be removed for political reasons. It was not always so in Fort Wayne, but it is now.

If cutting politics out of the fire department is a good thing for Fort Wayne, its property and its people, why will it not be a good thing to do with the balance of the city government? Why have any more partisan politics in any branch of the city government than in the fire department? If practical common sense and high consideration of the public welfare are good principles upon which to base the management of the fire department, they are good principles upon which to base the whole range of municipal administration. That is what the non-partisan movement means all along the line—no partisan exploitation of any department of the government of Fort Wayne. What public sentiment has done to break the clutch of partisan abuse on the fire department of this city, it can do for the whole government.

The Light is Breaking



Congressman Cline writes to President Randall of the Deep Waterways Association, after examining the Engineers' report on the Canal:
I was completely surprised to note the exhaustive character of the work that Colonel Willis and his associates have done. The report contains more than one hundred single-spaced long written pages.
Every point is discussed, and the report settles conclusively three points:
First--The feasibility of the construction;
Second--The necessary amount of water at the summit level;
Third--The necessity for greater facilities for transportation and for competing rates.
The report shows also that the canal should be constructed in conjunction with the Erie canal, and as a practical part of it. I mean a working part of the Erie. It also makes a comparison with railway traffic, showing the [illegible] that could be carried on 2,500-ton barges, and the [illegible] time it would take to [illegible] ght to mark-
THE SKEPTIC
I CONTEND THAT 1-THE ALTITUDES MAKE CONSTRUCTION OF CANAL IMPOSSIBLE. 2-THERE IS NOT A SUFFICIENT AMOUNT OF WATER TO SUPPLY THE SUMMIT LEVEL!

STEADY INCREASE IN WAGE SCALES

Statistics by Department of Labor Show Figures for Six Years.

WORKING HOURS CUT

Washington, Sept. 12.—There was a steady increase in the scale of wages paid to labor in this country in the past six years and this was accomplished in the face of a steady reduction in the working hours of labor. Statistics published today by the department of labor indicate that labor now is receiving more remuneration for fewer hours of toil than ever before. The figures are based on comparisons of union wage scale agreements, trade union reports and working compacts in central cities throughout the United States from 1907 to 1912. The bakers appear to have carried off the cake in the distribution of good thinks, for their wages were increased 22 per cent. in the six years, while their working day was shortened nearly one-fifth. Stone cutters and newspaper compositors are the lowest in the scale in matter or reduced hours. The stone cutters also received the lowest rate of increase, a fate not shared, however, by the compositors.

The inquiry was an elaborate one and the result is the most comprehensive document of its kind yet issued by the government. It was prosecuted by segregating the trades under the general divisions of baking trades, building trades, marble and stone trades and printing trades.

NO SHORTAGE OF SPUDS.

Potato Crop, Though Smaller Than Last Year's, Will Be Ample.

Washington, Sept. 12.—While potatoes will not be a drug on the market this year, consumers need not fear that there will not be enough to meet demands. In a special report today on the potato outlook, L. C. Corbett, of the department of agriculture, declared that while the total harvest will be less than last year it will be sufficient to supply normal needs.

The shrinkage in this year's crop is ascribed to the heavy hold-over crop from last season, the low prices and the general demoralization of the potato trade last autumn, which caused a reduction in acreage.

NEW PAINT CREEK STRIKE.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 12.—Alleging that the Paint Creek Collieries company had failed in its promise to dismiss a company doctor employed during the recent labor troubles, 500 miners employed in the mines in and around Mucklow struck today. The company is said to have signed the union scale a few weeks ago.

HALF MILLION TO COMPLETE SHAFT

That Much Needed to Bring Perry Memorial Up to the Plans.

MUCH YET TO BE DONE

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 12.—The Perry monument at Put-in-Bay cannot be completed according to the architect's present plans unless the states or the federal government contributed another $500,000. This was the gist of a statement made here today by John H. Clarke, of Cleveland, president of the Ohio Perry Centennial commission. Eight states and the federal government have appropriated approximately $925,000 for the erection of the monument and for the celebrations at Chicago, Detroit, Toledo, Milwaukee, Buffalo and other points in honor of 100 years of peace between the United States and Great Britain. "Of this $500,000 is now available for the monument," said President Clarke. "This is sufficient to complete the shaft as the inter-state commerce commission ordered it built, but there will not be enough money to build the plaza, museum and peace temple which were to be parts of the memorial."

Clarke said that the celebrations in the various cities were handled economically and efficiently.

BRINGING IN NEW SEASON.

New York, Sept. 12.—More than fifty youths were arrested during the night for smashing straw hats to emphasize their opinion that the straw hat season was over. In night court early today most of them were fined five or ten dollars. The young rowdies for the most part worked on trolley cars.

NOTHING MADE OF CLUES TO CRIME

Supposed Victim of Gotham Murder Found Alive in Havana.

POLICE ARE BAFFLED

Havana, Sept. 12.—Mrs. Lena Janin, who was supposed to have been murdered in New York, her body cut up and thrown into the Hudson river, and Vincent Planells, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the case, were today found living in a house in Havana street here.

The couple said they had lived together in New York and had sailed for Havana ten days ago after Planells had had a dispute with Casper Janin, the woman's husband, over the question of the Janins obtaining a divorce.

CLUES LEAD TO NOTHING.

New York, Sept. 12.—The finding in Havana of Mrs. Janin disposes of what the local detective bureau regarded as a promising clue in the solution of the river murder mystery. Her presence there invalidates the identification made yesterday by Casper Janin, who said he knew the torso was that of his wife from birthmarks on the back.

Other clues have led detectives against a wall of mystery. H. Bolian, the Armenian carpenter, and his daughter, sought yesterday, also have been found and have accounted satisfactorily for their movements since leaving their apartments a few days ago. They had lived near the store where the pillow and tar paper wrapped around a portion of the body were purchased and were sought by the police because Bolian had sent a much-stained and discolored shirt to a nearby laundry. The stain on the garment were found later to be those of varnish used in his work.

The clearing of these clues leaves detectives where they were four days ago when they located the shops where the pillow and tar paper were bought. The purchasers of these articles were sought with redoubled persistence today. A constant watch was kept along the river for the rest of the body. Two persons have seen a woman's head floating in the bay within the past eight days. It was last seen floating on an out-going tide by Miss Grace Cure, of Bayonne, N. J., on Tuesday while she was rowing near Constable Hook and is believed to be that of the victim. The finding of this head would make possible identification, which now seems remote.

GETS FEDERAL BERTH.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Albert H. Putney, of Chicago, has been appointed chief of the near eastern division of the state department, succeeding John A. MacMurray, appointed secretary of legation at Peking.

PICK M'ANENY FOR TICKET

Manhattan Borough President Declines to Succeed Gaynor.

HE WILL NOT RACE AGAINST MITCHELL

Mayoralty Situation in New York Remains in Confusion.

New York, Sept. 12.—George McAneny, president of the borough of Manhattan and fusion candidate for president of the board of aldermen, was designated today by the Gaynor campaign managers as their candidate for mayor, to take the place made vacant by Mayor Gaynor's death.

McAneny was quick to decline the designation.

"I sincerely appreciate the honor," he said in a formal statement, "but under no circumstances could I accept a mayoralty nomination in opposition to Mr. Mitchel, the fusion candidate."

Whether Mr. McAneny would accept the designation was an open question when the meeting adjourned. His designation as head of the independent ticket was embodied in a resolution adopted at a meeting of the Gaynor campaign managers, with the Gaynor independent league, one of the organizations which was supporting the late mayor.

Will Continue Headquarters.

The resolutions further recommended that the Gaynor headquarters be kept in operation and that the work in progress before the death of the mayor be continued. Among the leaders formerly foremost in support of the Gaynor candidacy who attended today's meeting, were Herman Ridder, Henry Clews and Jacob H. Schiff.

Shock from the news of Mayor Gaynor's sudden death at sea still weighed heavily upon New York city today. From beneath this weight developments in the complicated mayoralty situation emerged, but slowly, and assumed no more tangible form than opinions voiced by various political leaders as to the effect which the mayor's sudden removal would have upon the election of November 4.

In some quarters it was held that the situation was very much simplified; in others that the political outlook was still more muddled.

City of Mourning.

New York was a city of mourning today for its dead mayor. Flags flew at half mast and public buildings—the city hall, police headquarters, the municipal buildings—were draped in black.

The board of estimate, called together by Ardolph L. Kline, the mayor's successor, met this forenoon to arrange for a public funeral to be held shortly after the arrival here of the mayor's body aboard the Lusitania, which sailed today from Liverpool and is due here a week from today. Monday, Sept. 22, has been suggested as a tentative date. There was also to be a meeting of the dead executive's cabinet—commissioners of various city departments—and the board of aldermen to pass appropriate resolutions on the death of the chief executive and to take in hand the reins of the city government, confused by the mayor's sudden taking off. The recent resignation of John Purroy Mitchel, now candidate for mayor, from the presidency of the board of aldermen, and the sudden elevation of Mr. Kline, vice chairman of the board, to the mayor's chair, has left that body without a head.

Will Continue Gaynor's Policies.

The new mayor, a republican, who will serve until a successor, to be chosen at the coming November election, is inaugurated on Jan. 1, intends, he has announced, to carry out the policies of the Gaynor administration "insofar as I know them," and to make no changes in appointive officials. None of these officials, it was believed today, would hand in their resignations. Messages of condolence from all parts of the country continued to pour in today at the

WATSON GETS IN TESTIMONY

For Indiana Congressman Before House Lobby Committee.

STRONGLY DENIES MULHALL STORIES

Was Never in Employ of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Former Representative James E. Watson, of Indiana, before the house lobby committee today made a general denial of Martin M. Mulhall's general charge that he was one of the active friends of the National Association of Manufacturers in congress during many years.

"At no time while I was in congress or after I left congress," said Mr. Watson, "was I in the employ of the National Association of Manufacturers for any purpose, nor was I at any time a lobbyist or a lawyer for it."

Denies Mulhall Charges.

Watson said he did work for the National Tariff Commission association, an organization of several hundred associations and many individuals of which the National Association of Manufacturers was one. He declared that Mulhall's charge that he used his influence to put certain men on house committees and remove others was without foundation.

"You don't need to tell the sun to shine. You don't need to tell the birds to sing, anymore than you needed to tell Uncle Joe Cannon who to appoint on committees," said he. "The committees were made up by Mr. Cannon, Busby, his secretary, and Asher Hinds, the house parliamentarian, and I never obtruded my opinions."

When asked to give an opinion on a man's fitness for a committee position he gave it but went no further. Watson said he never was approached by any National Association of Manufacturers' official to favor any legislation and never was interested particularly in any bills they favored except an anti-injunction bill, and the proposed exemption of labor unions from the operation of the Sherman law. He said he

CHINA COMPLIES WITH DEMANDS

Orders Issued Indicate That Japan Ultimatum Has Been Met.

REPAIRS AN INSULT

Pekin, Sept. 12.—Orders issued today by Provisional President Yuan Shigh Kai signify, it is believed by foreign observers in Peking, that China has complied with the demands of the Japanese government presented yesterday. The Japanese demands arose from the killing of three Japanese at Nanking, the treatment of a consular messenger, the torture of a Japanese lieutenant at Hankow and the imprisonment for two days of a Japanese lieutenant at Shan Tung. Japan demanded an apology for the insults to the Japanese flag, the punishment of those responsible and the payment of an indemnity.

In the clash between Japanese and Chinese soldiers yesterday at Chang Ti, near Shang-Kwan, where the Japanese guard a section of the railway from Peking to the sea, one of the Japanese soldiers was killed.

The Chinese officer later sent an apology to the Japanese commander.

Rest and Exercise

ED HAUSBACH, of the Wabash shops, likes to go fishing, but he really enjoys the restful outing rather than the wearisome labor of hauling in weighty pike and bass. This tendency was illustrated the other day when Mr. Hausbach, with Charley Dean, W. A. Bell and "Al" Brintzenhofe, all connected with the Wabash shops, went up to one of the lakes for an outing. Mr. Hausbach, after a considerable siege of fishing, found himself getting sleepy. The object of an outing is really to obtain rest, and so Mr. Hausbach asked to be rowed ashore where he could roll out on the grass and snooze. The green sward on the bank seemed to be waiting for him as it was soft and cool and altogether delightful.

"The last thing I remember before falling asleep," says Mr. Hausbach, "was that I listened to the crickets and katydids and wondered whether or not any of the welcoming messages were from the dainty little throats of the chiggers. I was so comfortable that I didn't care, and was soon asleep. I awoke with a peculiar sensation—a hot breath on my cheek, and opened my eyes to find myself gazing into the placid countenance of a brindle cow, who, with some of her sisters had wandered into my neighborhood. She had taken a sniff of my complexion just as I

Traction Company Gives the City 5,500 Yards of Dirt to Do Work.

ASKS NOTHING FOR IT

Through the courtesy of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, the city board of park commissioners has been given approximately 5,500 yards of dirt for the purpose of filling in the west side of Broadway from the Bluffton road to Foster park, and for filling in a long stretch of roadway along Spy Run avenue from State street to the Centlivre brewery. Both places were washed out by the March floods. The park board has been given permission to use this dirt and the only cost to the city will be eleven cents per yard for paying men to unload it from the cars.

About fifty carloads of earth were removed from South Broadway in repairing the street car tracks from Savilla avenue to the Bluffton road. About 3,500 yards of earth is later to be removed when the tracks are repaired on Wallace street. All of this dirt has been given to the city free of cost, and the traction company promises to furnish cars in which to carry it away.

A large portion of the extreme south end of Broadway was washed away during the floods last spring. The city would sooner or later be compelled to reconstruct the thoroughfare and the work has now been made possible at very little cost by the generosity of the traction company. About 1,000 yards of earth will be used in repairing Spy Run avenue north of State street along the river.

from New York to my home state, Pennsylvania.

"The statutes of New York require that insane persons from another state who are sent to Matteawan or to any other New York public asylum not charged with crime, and I as an acquitted man stand exactly in this class, shall be reported to the state board of deportation and promptly sent out of the state back to the state of my residence.

"The New York law is so anxious to get rid of alleged insane persons from another state that it provides that doctors and nurses, if needed, be supplied to get rid of them.

"The United States courts have adjudicated me a resident of Pittsburg and reaffirmed this fact within three months.

"Now why does any New York official squander New York money to retain me.

"H. K. THAW."

Both Sides Afraid to Move.

The hearing was delayed by conferences by counsel of both sides. Each side was hesitant about making a move for fear the situation would resolve itself into a physical struggle.

Counsel for the fugitive agreed to waive the hearing here provided counsel for New York would consent to a hearing before Governor Felker on the matter of his signing the extradition warrant, with five days respite in order to give time for suing out habeas corpus writ should the governor decide that the prisoner must be surrendered to New York.

Ex-Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, arrived today and joined the Thaw battery of counsel.

GOES WITH THE PAPERS.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Papers calling for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw from Colebrook, N. H., to New York state, were signed today by Acting Governor Martin H. Glynn. Sheriff Hornbeck left at noon for Concord to present the papers to Governor Felker. Thaw is charged with being a fugitive from justice and among the papers are the affidavits of various officials and residents of Dutchess county relating to Thaw's commitment and escape from the asylum and his arrest in New Hampshire. In his affidavit District Attorney Conger says that in his opinion the ends of justice require that Thaw be brought to New York for trial at public expense and that he is willing that such expense be borne by the county of Dutchess. He says he believes he has sufficient evidence to convict Thaw on the charge of conspiracy. No indictment against Thaw has been found, the district attorney explains, because no grand jury was in session from the day of Thaw's escape until Sept. 8. A grand jury now is in session, but Mr. Conger says it will be unable to hear the Thaw case for some time and will not make a report of its findings for at least two weeks.

THAW LAWYER AT CONCORD.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 12.—Wm. H. Olmstead, a New York lawyer, arrived here today to take charge of the interests of Harry K. Thaw so far as action at the state capital may be necessary.

Mr. Olmstead says that if Thaw is taken back to New York a taxpayer's suit will be brought there for his deportation to Pennsylvania on the ground that in his case New York is being taxed for the support of an insane person whose legal residence is in another state.

HAS EXTRADITION PAPERS.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 12.—District Attorney Conger, of Dutchess county, left for Albany this morning carrying extradition papers asking for the return of Harry K. Thaw from Colebrook, N. H. As soon as Acting Governor Glynn signs the papers Mr. Conger will take them to New Hampshire.

office of Robert Adamson, the mayor's secretary and at the Gaynor country home, St. James, Long Island, where Mrs. Gaynor and her children are reported to be bearing their loss with fortitude.

The dead mayor's friends recalled today a paragraph he wrote in a letter to his sister soon after the attempt on his life three years ago. It was this: "I was not a bit afraid to die if that was God's will of me. I said to myself, just as well now as a few years from now. No one who contemplates the immensity of Almighty God and His universe and His works and realizes what an atom he is in it all, can fear to die in this flesh, yea, even though it were true that he is to lose his identity and be dissolved forever into the infinity of matter and mind from which he came."

Funeral Arrangements.

Funeral services for Mayor Gaynor will be held in Trinity church, this city, at 11 o'clock on Monday morning, Sept. 22. The services will be public. This was decided this afternoon at a conference in the office of Mayor Kline attended by representatives of city departments and the Gaynor family. When the Lusitania arrives here September 19 the body will be taken to the Gaynor home in Brooklyn and stay there until Saturday afternoon. Then it will be brought to the city hall, where it will lie in state over Sunday and until the funeral procession Monday morning.

BODY REACHES QUEENSTOWN.

Queenstown, Sept. 12.—The steamship Baltic, on board which was the body of the mayor of New York, who died suddenly at sea on Wednesday, arrived at Queenstown at 4:30 o'clock this morning.

The mayor's son, Rufus W. Gaynor, was abed when the Baltic reached Queenstown. Fearing that he would be besieged with inquiries upon the arrival of the steamer, young Gaynor had left orders with the officers in charge that no one be allowed to disturb him.

It was said that the shock of his father's death had somewhat unsettled him. Officers of the ship said that nothing definitely seemed to have been arranged about the transfer of the mayor's body to a New York bound steamer, but it was surmised that it would be sent home on the Cunard liner, Lusitania, instead of the White Star line steamer, Cedric, as at first planned. It was learned that the mayor had not mixed with his fellow passengers during the voyage and this was recalled as an indication of a more serious indisposition than he admitted when he embarked at New York a week ago for a fortnight on the ocean. He had had all of his meals served in his state room, but he had often gone above for the invigorating ocean breezes and those close to him thought his health was improving daily. To them his death was wholly unexpected.

HONORED IN LIVERPOOL.

Liverpool, Sept. 12.—Arrangements were made today by the Liverpool authorities to render full civic honors to the body of the late mayor of New York, William J. Gaynor, on the arrival of the steamer Baltic here this afternoon. It was ordered that the body should lie in state in the town hall, guarded by a detachment of police, until the time arrived to take the casket on board the Lusitania for shipment back to the United States. The lord mayor of Liverpool took charge of the arrangements. "In compliment to New York, with which Liverpol has such close ties and as a mark of sympathy with the American people," he announced, "I have arranged with the steamship officials to have the body transferred immediately to the town hall from the ship."

Policemen were assigned to escort the body to the town hall and guard it there. According to the program prepared by the authorities the body will be removed to the Lusitania tomorrow morning. The lord mayor today forwarded to Mayor Ardolph L. Kline a cablegram expressing his sympathy with the people of New York.

Both Misses Eleanor and Margaret Wilson, daughters of the president, are to appear in connection with the masque. The British ambassador will motor over from Dublin, where the British embassy is located.

HAD HIS CAMPAIGN CAR.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 12.—President Wilson passed through here at 9 o'clock enroute to the summer white house at Cornish, N. H.

The trip was reminiscent of campaign days, for not only did the president ride on the private car "Federal," from which he made most of his back platform speeches, but he was accompanied by Secretary McAdoo, of the treasury department; Secretary Tumulty and Dudley Field Malone, third assistant secretary of state, all of whom were Mr. Wilson's traveling companions in pre-election days.

Messrs. McAdoo, Tumulty and Malone left the president's train at New Haven and continued to Beverly, Mass., where they will confer today with Col. E. M. House, intimate friend of President Wilson. They will talk over the Boston collectorship and two other federal appointments in Massachusetts. Some of the Massachusetts leaders have been urging that federal appointments be deferred until after the gubernatorial election so as to avoid the possibility of factional strife in the democratic ranks. The president probably will decide this when he gets back to Washington.

President William M. Griffin, of the Fort Wayne Commercial club, who is spending a week in northern Michigan, has written to Secretary Charles L. Biederwolf, announcing the appointment of Theodore F. Including Mr. Thieme ten members of the Fort Wayne Commercial club will attend the meeting. The others are Charles B. Fitch, Edgar H. Kilbourne, Harry P. Fletcher, Hon. Charles McCulloch, B. Paul Mossman, Frank E. Bohn, Charles L. Biederwolf, Olaf N. Guldlin and George H. Van Arnam.

Mr. Biederwolf is a member of the executive board in charge of arrangements for the meeting and this afternoon he dispatched letters to each commercial club president and secretary in the state, urging their attendance. Mr. Biederwolf is contemplating a trip to Omaha late this month to attend the annual convention of the Central America commercial club executives, to be held there October 21, 25 and 26.

held the same views as the association on those measures.

Mulhall Promised to Aid Him.

Watson explained Mulhall expected to assist him in his campaign for governor in 1908, but worked only a few months and didn't make his promise good. He denied that Mulhall helped raise $22,000 in that campaign. His employment by the tariff association was about April 1, 1909, nearly a month after he left congress. He said he was in charge of the campaign for a tariff commission while the Payne bill was in the house and later in the senate.

"There was nothing secret or insidious about my employment," said he. "I was not in congress and I thought I had a right to that employment. I received $250 a week and my expenses and probably a retainer of $500. There may have been some talk of a contingent fee but it must have been among the officers. I never heard anything about it."

"While I was whip of the house for six years," declared Watson, pounding on the table in front of him, "I was intimately acquainted with almost every member, and I never knew a corrupt man in the house."

When questioned about lectures for the manufacturers or allied organization, Watson delivered he proceeded to take a shot at Secretary Bryan.

"He is the John D. Rockefeller of the Chautauqua platform," said Watson. "He has mand more money out of it than anybody else and he has made more money because he has gone about abusing the other fellows for making money."

Watson disclaimed any knowledge of the "blacklist" of six congressmen Mulhall said he had written. He said the names were in his handwriting, but he had not the slightest idea why he had written them.

MOTORCYCLIST IS HURT.

Carl F. Schory, of 1001 Wall street, is at St. Joseph's hospital suffering from a severe scalp wound which he received early this morning when he struck the rear of a carriage occupied by John Hubler and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bercot, residing on rural route No. 4. The carriage was completely demolished, but none of the occupants was injured. Schory's injury is not serious.

EMPLOYERS ARE GIVEN WARNING

Professor Study Says They Must Be Careful in Hiring Children.

FURNITURE DELAYED

Prof. Justin N. Study, superintendent of the Fort Wayne public schools, declares that all employers of labor in the city should exercise the utmost care when they hire boys and girls. He says they should be sure that the child if of proper age, and must obtain certificates bearing proper signatures. According to the laws of the state, anybody who employs a boy or girl under fourteen years of age, who has not passed the fifth grade of school, lays himself liable to prosecution for having violated the child labor law.

Thus far no violations have been reported. An extensive amount on school and the attendance officers are pleased with the condition of schools during the first week of the present term.

Flood Causes Delay.

The only unfortunate condition existing results from a delay in shipment of schooldesks and chairs. Prof. Study blames the March floods for much of the discouraging experiences encountered throughout the country in opening the public schools. The floods damaged such an extensive amount of school and church furniture that manufacturers have been unable to meet the demand, and most of the best plants where school furniture is manufactured have been operating both night and day.

The chairs for the kindergarten rooms at the South Wayne school have just arrived in the city. They were ordered at Richmond early last week and were promised in time for the opening of school. Desks shipped one week ago are not here yet, and equipment for the vocational school in the Washington school building will not be delivered in Fort Wayne until next week, according to word received today by Mr. Study. Some of this furniture was ordered in the early summer. To accommodate the pupils at the South Wayne school, chairs were borrowed from a church in the neighborhood.

HOLD SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

W. C. T. U. Convention Attended by Large Number of Members.

One of the best conventions ever held by the Allen County Woman's Christian Temperance union was held yesterday at the First M. E. church. During the morning the thirty-seven superintendents in charge of the various branches of the work of the organization gave their reports. The election of officers resulted as follows: Mrs. Ridenour, president; Mrs. Nellie Smith, New Haven, recording secretary; Mrs. Ida Youse, Monroeville, treasurer; Mrs. M. A. Smith, Fort Wayne, corresponding secretary. The office of county organizer was filled for the first time here, and Mrs. Eva Fickes, of New Haven, was elected to the place. In the evening Mrs. S. W. Teeple, of 2324 Minor street, won the silver medal in a matrons' contest. Miss Anna Phillew of this city, gave a number of readings during the convention.

SPEAKERS TO BE APPOINTED SOON

Non-Partisans Will Secure Meeting Places in Each Ward..

THE HOSEY QUESTION

Preliminary arrangements for the opening of the citizens' non-partisan speaking campaign were discussed by members of the city central committee at their regular meeting Thursday evening, and according to announcement made this morning by City Chairman Albert E. Thomas, the official committee to have charge of the speaking will be appointed some time between now and the date set for the next meeting. In the meantime it is believed that permanent meeting places will be secured in each ward and in a majority of the precincts.

The meeting last evening was attended by each member of the central committee and by several candidates on the non-partisan ticket. While the committeemen have not completed their poll of the city, the work has progressed so far that the committee has been able to tabulate an encouraging total for the non-partisan candidates.

Among others who addressed the meeting was Dr. Edward J. McOscar. Mr. McOscar was a member of the original non-partisan committee, and while he has not been actively working thus far in the campaign, he believes that the non-partisan movement is on its way to victory. He says Fort Wayne must sooner or later take politics out of city affairs, and now is the time to do it.

Dr. Budd Van Sweringen and E. A. Wagner, both members of the city council, were among the other speakers. Dr. Van Sweringen expressed his approval of the councilmanic candidates whose names appear on the non-partisan ticket, and Mr. Wagner praised the non-partisan movement as one of the best things that has ever been inaugurated in Fort Wayne.

Here is a Question.

Questioned concerning William J. Hosey's attitude toward law enforcement as it relates to the elimination of vice, supporters of the democratic candidate for mayor simply say that Mr. Hosey has pledged himself to carry out the planks of the democratic platform, and usually add that the official document of the democratic campaign takes a decided stand against the re-establishment of the red light district.

Some of the best men of Fort Wayne, including democrats, republicans and progressives are just as conversant concerning the democratic platform as is Mr. Hosey and his office seekers, and they point out that Mr. Hosey has not pledged himself to eliminate vice. The plank in the democratic platform pertaining to this matter declares that they favor the enforcement of law and elimination of vice, but nowhere does it promise to enforce the law. It simply states in mild terms that it favors the elimination of dives, blind tigers and gambling houses, and incidentally that particular plank is one of the shortest and most inconspicuous in the entire democratic platform. In mild terms, without promising anything, it reads as follows:

"The democratic party renews its allegiance to law and order, favors an impartial enforcement of the law and the elimination of vice in any form or district, blind tigers, dives and gambling houses."

The non-partisan workers are also at a loss to understand why it is that every dive keeper, saloonist and representative of the city's underworld is working day and night for Hosey's success in November. If Mr. Hosey intends to keep the "lid" on in Fort Wayne, the question arises as to why the great army of saloonists and resort owners want him elected mayor of Fort Wayne.

This is one thing that is certainly puzzling to the law-abiding citizen.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

AGED WOMAN HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Liberty Mills Has Another Fire and Mrs. Eichholtz Almost Died in Her Burning Home.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 12.—Liberty Mills, whose business section was wiped out by fire a few weeks ago, has had another blaze in which the home of Mrs. Eichholtz, an aged woman, was destroyed and she came near losing her life in the flames.

According to the story told by Mrs. Eichholtz, she had started a wood fire in the kitchen range at 8:30 o'clock in the morning in order to warm the house. Half an hour later Sanford Martin rushed into the house to notify her of the fire, which was rapidly spreading over the roof.

Mr. Martin found Mrs. Eichholtz, who is past 75 years of age, and very feeble, unable to help herself, due partly to the smoke which filled the house and to her feeble condition. Mr. Martin helped her to a neighbor's house. The house was burned to the ground and the bucket brigade was forced to work with might and main to save the surrounding buildings.

LEFT A VILLAGE; FINDS CITY.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 12.—After having been gone from Huntington almost fifty years, N. A. Collins has returned and he confesses his amazement at the progress Huntington and the county has made in the interim. "Why, when I was here before the creeks and rivers had old log bridges over them and there were only a few houses here where this big city is standing. They had corduroy roads and blazed trails then." Mr. Collins is 78 years old and is proprietor of a boring machine company in Lela, Okla. He is visiting at the Jacob Bartrom home, on the Markle gravel road, southeast of Huntington. A few days ago he attended a reunion in Marion and there saw sixty relatives he had never seen before.

BIG SINK HOLE IN WARSAW.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 12.—It is stated that the workmen of the Big Four railroad are having much difficulty in building a roadbed for tracks in the freight yards on the south border of Center lake. This ground is all low and swamp land and requires much filling. The workmen are now having trouble with a veritable sink hole that swallows up the ties and dirt dumped into it as fast as train loads of the filling can be thrown into it. Soundings taken of it show a depth of forty feet before firm ground is found, it is alleged. Report says the hole the other day swallowed up seven carloads of old ties, besides many loads of earth already dumped into its maw, and all sank out of sight.

JAIL DELIVERY IS FOILED.

Sentenced Prisoners in Huntington Bastile Were Sawing Out.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 12.—Only a few hours before a petition for parole from prison sentence, signed by four prominent Huntington business men, had been filed in circuit court for Bruce Harnish, confessor of a crime of petit larceny, attempts at jail delivery were discovered by Sheriff Scott in notches cut in steel bars of a county jail window. Through "squeals" of other prisoners in the county bastile, Sheriff Scott became aware of endeavors to escape from the prison on the part of Bruce Harnish, Dale Townsend and Frank Miller.

The two former lads have been sentenced to Jeffersonville reformatory on charges of petit larceny for the thefts of bicycles, and Miller will journey to the state's prison for stealing a horse. The three prisoners confessed the attempt to gain freedom and are lodged in separate cells awaiting action of the circuit court judge.

The story told by Harnish that the saws had been obtained before his arrest is being scouted and it is hinted that an investigation is being conducted the results of which may reveal that criminal aid has been given Harnish by relatives.

According to the prisoners, two days had been consumed in sawing the jail bars. When searched the three men carried their cups hidden in clothing pockets. Their appearances bespoke preparations for a hurried exit from the city.

CELEBRATE WEDDING DAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Hawk Entertain Family on Anniversary.

Auburn, Ind., Sept. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Hawk, who live near this city, celebrated the fifty-sixth anniversary of their wedding, surrounded by their children, children's children and many friends. A bountiful country dinner with plenty of fried chicken, was a feature of the good time. The aged couple, both of whom are enjoying good health though nearly eighty years of age, were the recipients of a number of handsome gifts and were fairly showered with good wishes for continued happiness and many more anniversary days and family reunions. Mr. Hawk is near his seventy-eighth birth anniversary and Mrs. Hawk has passed hers. Mr. Hawk shows his activity by frequently walking several miles a day. A noted guest at the meeting was Mrs. Hawk's oldest brother, Silas B. Brown, of Peak county, Iowa who is eighty-one years old, who came on especially to attend the anniversary meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Hawk are parents of seven children, all of whom were present. They are: Mrs. John Coil, of Fort Wayne; Mrs. Emma Delong, Mrs. John Chrouster, Decatur, Mrs. Wm. H. Coil, Fort Wayne; Mrs. John Bailey, Wallen; Mrs. Larren Lake, Decatur; Thomas L. Hawk, Chicago Junction, Ohio. Others present were: Mrs. Susan Harkrader, Continental, O.; Mrs. Lucinda McElwiere, Fort Wayne; Mrs. Lavina Swartz, Auburn; John Bailey, James Bailey, Ruby Fansler, Earman Fansler, Green Fansler, Vera Fansler, Lester Fansler, Mrs. Wm. Thomas, of Delong; Vera Hilkert, of Swan.

MRS. NEWNAM BURIED.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 12.—Mrs. Nancy Cochran Newnam was buried today in Lake View cemetery after obsequies held at her late residence on Diamond street. A large number of neighbors and other friends of the deceased attended the services, which were conducted by Rev. Millard Pell. Mrs. Newnam was the widow of the late Nicholas B. Nownam, a pioneer farmer and later a successful business man in this city. She was born in Ohio in 1829 and came with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cochran, to Lagrange county early in the '30's. She was married to Mr. Newnam in 1852 and they lived on a farm in Milford township, Lagrange county, until 1880, when they moved to this city. Her husband served a term as county commissioner of Noble county and was prominent and influential in politics.

FARMER HURT BY COW'S KICK.

Decatur, Ind., Sept. 12.—Harry Beintz suffered a second injury within the week when he was kicked by a cow at his home, southeast of Decatur, near the state line, and was seriously hurt last evening. Mr. Beintz had gone to the barn to do his chores. In stooping over to get a bucket, a cow, which had been brought in from the pasture with some trouble, kicked Mr. Beintz. The blow fell on his chest and made him weak, but not unconscious. In falling, however, he fell into the basement beneath the barn, which is still in the course of construction, and had not been closed to avoid just such trouble. In the fall he suffered severe bruises and a lame shoulder.

HORSE THIEF IS SENTENCED.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 12.—On his plea of guilty Frank Miller was sentenced to the Jeffersonville reformatory from one to fourteen years for horse stealing. Miller raised something of a stir when he declared that he had been promised a jail sentence at the time he made his confession to the sheriff, though this is denied by the officer. Young Miller, who is only 20, caused much excitement by his bold theft of a horse from Frank Lovell, an itinerant horse trader from Fort Wayne, and the wild chase he led the officers of this, Allen, Wells and Adams counties in Indiana and Van Wert county, Ohio. He committed several robberies in the vicinity of Fort Wayne while the officers were pursuing him. He was arrested by the Van Wert sheriff. Miller strongly protests his innocence.

LIVED WITH AGED MAN 15 YEARS.

Pennville Father Files Charges Against His Daughter.

Portland, Ind., Sept. 12.—Because she refused to leave the home in which she has resided for the past fifteen years, Miss Lodema Walker, 25, and Isaac Johnson, 71, both of this city, were arrested on charges preferred against them by Jack Walker, of Pennville, father of the girl. Pleas of not guilty were entered by both defendants and their trials will be held later.

Miss Walker was taken into the Johnson home when she was but ten years old and has since resided there. Her mother is dead, and about six years ago Johnson's wife died and she has since served as his housekeeper. She is the mother of an illigitimate son, now about five years old, and although she denies that Johnson is the father of the child, Walker when he made the affidavit, declared that he is, and that his daughter and Johnson have lived in an illegal state since the latter's wife died.

WAS BORN IN OLD COURT HOUSE.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 12.—James Washburn, as widely a known citizen as there is in Whitley county, is today celebrating the seventieth anniversary of his birth, which event took place in the old court house in this city, Sept. 12, 1843. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Washburn, came here early in the year 1835 and being unable to find a dwelling, took up their abode in a log cabin in Troy township. In May they came here and found quarters in the court house, where "Jim" was ushered into the world. The old court house is still standing, being now remodeled for residence purposes.

KEPT ELOPEMENT A SECRET.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 12.—Miss Bernice Myers and Elza Hannah, well known young people of this city, eloped to Hillsdale, Mich., last Saturday and were married. They have just returned and announced the nuptial event to their friends, after keeping the affair as well as their whereabouts secret for several days. The bride is an estimable young lady and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Myers. The groom is an employe at the McCray factory. His parents are residents of Ney, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Hannah will make their future home in this city. They have the best wishes of their many friends.

YOUNG MAN DECLARED INSANE.

Decatur, Ind., Sept. 12.—William Baumgartner, a young man of French township, this county, has been declared insane and will be sent to Richmond hospital. He had been demented for some time, but not until last Sunday did he show signs of violence and it then became necessary to bring him here and confine him in jail. He could be restrained only by tying him in his bed. It is believed that his insanity is due to an operation for appendicitis about six weeks ago, as he had never previously given any indications of mental affliction. Baumgartner is about 21 years old.

FOREIGNERS MAKE TROUBLE.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 12.—Because they nightly hold "house parties," quarrel, fight and shoot, Italians in a construction camp on the Erie railroad at Simpson have given people of the neighborhood much alarm. When in their carousals the foreigners indulge in much promiscuous shooting and stray shots have given people in the vicinity narrow escapes from injury. The county authorities have been asked to interfere.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Titus 1:1-16.

1 Paul, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and the acknowledging of the truth which is after godliness;

2 In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began;

3 But hath in due time manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me according to the commandment of God our Saviour;

4 To Titus, mine own son after the common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting, and ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:

6 If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children not accused of riot or unruly.

7 For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not selfwilled, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre;

8 But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, holy, temperate;

9 Holding fast the faithful word as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.

10 For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, specially they of the circumcision:

11 Whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.

12 One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are always liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.

13 This witness is true. Wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith;

14 Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men, that turn from the truth.

15 Unto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

16 They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

Death of Mayor Gaynor

The death of Mayor William J. Gaynor, of New York, is apt to be considered at this time more from the standpoint of the effect it is likely to have on the municipal campaign in the metropolis than from the standpoint of a widely known and able publicist's demise. The situation in New York is made so complex by many elements that an intelligent understanding of it with its new complications is not easy at this distance. Mayor Gaynor had accepted a renomination for mayor on a ticket at least supposititiously hostile to Charles F. Murphy and Tammany hall. The New York World and John Purroy Mitchell, the fusionist candidate for mayor, have steadfastly charged that Gaynor was in reality a stalking horse for Murphy, notwithstanding the mayor's vigorous denunciations of Tammany and its leader. Mayor Gaynor had many of the elements of a great man and in numerous respects was a good mayor; but he had made serious mistakes, as for instance when he upheld Lieutenant Becker and other police officers involved in the gambling graft and the murder conspiracy that grew out of it. The mayor was sincere enough in his confidence in the police, but events proved that his confidence was misplaced and that he had fatally blundered. Nevertheless, he was a man of high ideals, correct purpose and splendid abilities. Prior to the democratic conventions of 1908 and 1912 he had been discussed as an available candidate for the presidency.

Spoilsmen Are Afraid of It

No better evidence can be had of the strength of the non-partisan movement in Fort Wayne than the malignant fury of the spoilsmen. A movement that has enlisted only a handful of men and makes no headway with the people, as the opposition claims, might provoke a laugh, but it would in the main be treated with the contempt of silence. But what do we hear? The non-partisan movement has stirred up in the camp of the spoilsmen such a wail of bitterness and hostility as never was heard in this city before. It requires the labors of a whole corps of political managers and writers to prove to the people that this non-partisan movement is a ludicrous affair of Tooley street tailors, that it has no following and is getting nowhere. The campaign of the spoilsmen for what they think's coming to them is a reductio ad absurdum—which is the latin for stepping on the tail of your coat. Shrieks, groans, wails and lamentations splitting the welkin and the organ with all the stops out adding to the din with its mad music are the convincing proofs that the non-partisan movement isn't big enough to pay any attention to. Take it from your own common sense that the non-partisan movement is the biggest thing in this campaign and the spoilsmen are afraid of it.

Some spirited citizens took the first steps to start a movement to rescue the government of the city from the threat of spoilsmen and they asked the people to join them. The people have joined and are marching with the big procession. It is a people's movement and the people will go with it to the polls in November.

And don't be led away from the issue which is—Fort Wayne's government for all the people of Fort Wayne, progress and decency in administration and the end of spoilsism.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

What the Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

G. Will Wilson, chairman of the republican county central committee, left this morning for Indianapolis to attend a conference of state workers.

Grover Cleveland has officially sent his acceptancy as candidate for president to the national democratic committee. In doing so he outlines his policies and campaign pledges.

Yesterday was children's day at the Grace Reformed church and among those who participated in the program were Rev. and Mrs. A. K. Zartman, F. D. Paulus, Miss Emma Neireiter, Miss Laura Bradley, Freddie Vordermark, Miss Emma Ersig, G. O. Bradley, T. W. Blair and others.

RIVER BANKS

Editor of Sentinel:

Quite a few people were dissatisfied with the benefits assessed against them for the acquisition of the ground necessary to widen Thieme drive from 40 to 65 feet in order to have a six foot sidewalk and an attractive shaded park strip for the convenience of persons afoot, going to or returning from Swinney park, instead of simply a 40-foot roadway as at one time contemplated. It is safe to say that when completed no such person would have that sidewalk and park strip taken away, and have nothing but a roadway left, for ten times the small assessment which he paid.

But if there was such a hubbub created over this piece of river bank improvement by special assessment as to make it the chief stock in trade for Mr. LaTourette in his campaign for mayor, what might be expected when Mr. LaTourette put his plan into operation of improving all the river banks in the city by the same method of paying for the work by special assessment of a restricted benefited district?

The "cussing" that the park board got in its one small assessment wouldn't be a circumstance to that which Mr. LaTourette would call down upon his unlucky head.

TRYING TO GET BIRDBOY SMITH

Fort Wayne Fair Wants Native Son Aviator to Fly Here.

PROSPECT IS GOOD

Art Smith, Fort Wayne's native bird boy, the young aviator who constructed his own machine here in Fort Wayne, made his first flight here, eloped from here in an aeroplane and in divers other ways put this city on the aviation map, may be booked to fly at the Fort Wayne fair, starting Tuesday of next week. Secretary Strieder has made Smith an offer by long distance phone at Toledo, which Smith snapped up, but which he said he could not arrange for finally until he had taken the dating up with his booking agent at Kansas City. The association received a wire from Smith today saying that his booking agent already had him dated for next week, but that he was getting into communication with Kansas City again and would exert every effort to have the previous booking canceled. Smith feels that he owes Secretary Strieder, of the fair company, a great deal, as it was Mr. Strieder that fathered the benefit meet that was held for Smith a year ago when the boy aviator first was breaking into the game and had about exhausted his own resources. Smith will fly on four days, starting Tuesday of next week, if he can close for the dating.

The Better Baby Contest.

The "better babies" bureau has completed the arrangement of the details for the contest and the rules briefly are as follows: Parents must secure an entry number, which may be had by calling the fair office on the phone or in person and giving the name, age and sex of the child to be entered and the name and address of the parents; this entry number must be presented with the baby on the day the judging of the class to which it belongs is done; certificates of awards will be given the baby scoring the highest number of points each day; bronze medals will be given the boy and girl babies scoring highest total for the week, all judging will commence promptly at 1 o'clock each afternoon.

On Tuesday all babies over six months of age, and one-year-olds up to but not including two years, will be scored. A child who is within one month of two years would properly belong with the two-year-old children.

On Wednesday all children two years old and over will be scored.

On Thursday all children three years of age and over will be scored.

On Friday children four and five years up to but not including six will be scored.

The physicians who will have charge of the scoring are as follows: On Tuesday, Drs. Draver, Enslen, Bolman, Glock, Heim and A. L. Schneider; on Wednesday, Drs. Banning, Gross, Weaver, Bulson and McCurdy; on Thursday, Drs. Kane, Van Buskirk, Coba, Phillips and Russell; on Friday, Drs. Gilpin, Schultz, Ray, Gardner and Hilgeman.

Mrs. Neil McKay and Miss Helen Peters entertained quite informally this afternoon at the home in Forest Park boulevard of Mrs. McKay, in honor of Miss Hadji Dawson. The rooms were gay with garden flowers and a basket of flowers marked the place for Miss Dawson, who received a shower of kitchen utensils as a surprise part of the entertainment. The young women, who numbered about twenty, are those invited to the Wood-Dawson wedding, and they visited and sewed with the honor guest and enjoyed the refreshments.

Miss Gertrude Reilly was invited to be the special guest at a beautiful party given last evening by Miss Jennie Mooney, of East Lewis street. A quantity of pink cosmos decorated all the rooms and a pink umbrella, suspended over the supper table, had guest towels hidden in it for a shower on Miss Reilly. Pink baskets of candy, pink candles, bouquets of cosmos for each guest and a center decoration of the same flowers carried out the color plan and lent an exceedingly attractive appearance to the table. A flower contest and the writing of recipes for a cookbook took up the time and made the evening one of merriment and pleasure.

COLLEGE CLUB TO GIVE OPERA.

Amateur Performance of "Miss Bob White" to Be Given Soon.

With Miss Edith Nickel in the title role, a chorus of forty, and experienced men directing the staging, the near performance of "Miss Bob White," under the auspices of the College club, promises to excel its predecessor in local amateur performances, "Fifi of the Toyshop," given a year ago. The latter named play was also given under the management of the College club and its proceeds were used in establishing a day nursery. The club proposes to do equally as much good in whatever it may clear in profits of the coming entertainment, which will be given at the Majestic theater in October. The production will be staged under the direction of J. R. Rogers and Harry E. Munsey, who have had wide experience in similar work. Rehearsals are being held. Tonight at Packard hall the large chorus of young people and the principals of the cast will rehearse at 7:30. The children and special dances were rehearsed this afternoon. IOLAUS WEARS SMILE AND LEOPARD SKIN IN SWAN DANCES FOR THE "400."

IOLAUS DANCING "THE FAUN."

See this young man, for instance. He is a young man, though at first glance you might not think so. His name is Paul Swan. His ambition is to be a painter and sculptor. But while he was attaining fame and success as a painter and sculptor he very likely would starve.

So, as he learned interpretive dancing in Greece and Russia—Mordkin was one of his teachers—he is dancing in public and private, to ensnare the bank roll which will enable him to paint and sculpture without hearing the gnawing of the wolf at his studio door.

Swan dances under the name of Iolaus. By clothing himself only in a leopard-skin tunic he obtains great freedom of movement. His dances are unusual and the "400" keeps his engagement book filled.

AT THE TEMPLE

There's a company of women divers for a big headliner at the Temple in its second offering this week and it is a wonder, too. Women shallow water divers, with a leader, Mermaida, and three assistants, do some wonderful aquatic feats. Mermaida dives, turns somersaults, swims with hands and feet tied, floats, swims backward, sideways or forward with the skill that only a great expert in the water can do. The act is very attractive to see and is superior in class.

McNish and McNish, the family cutups, have a line of talk interspersed with some singing and ending with a neat dance by Frank McNish that brings down the house and ends the act. The Messrs. McNish are old-time favorites and they are welcome.

A clever satire called "The Convict's Return" is the best part of the act given by Graham and Randall in a comedy act they call "A Gay Old Boy." They do the heroics in burlesque style and smash everything up on the stage. The imitation of the miser Gaspard in "Chimes of Normandy" as the orchestra plays a bit from that old opera favorite is another good part of the act, which presents considerable variety.

The Knough Sisters offer a pretty dancing and singing act and the castanet dance is prettily costumed and gracefully done.

The bill opens with the Carpos Brothers in athletic stunts with which they introduce the wonder of one man balancing head down on the top of the head of another man seated at the piano. Both play, one the piano and the other a mandolin for a moment. Their work is well appreciated for its skill and new things.

Altogether the bill is a classy, moving pictures and orchestra included.

AT THE EMPRESS

The two Italian laborers "discovered" by a representative of the Empress theater a week ago, working with the Nickel Plate section crew, will make their second appearance at the Empress tonight, appearing in the amateur contest. This time the act will be a trio, the two Italians having secured a young woman singer to assist them. One of the men plays an accordeon and the other sings. They know a few American songs, but the majority of their numbers are Italian. The amateur contest tonight promises to bring out much interesting talent. The amateurs will appear following each performance tonight. Saturday afternoon there will be two matinees, one at 2:00 and the other at 3:30. Children under twelve are admitted to either of these performances for five cents. Sunday and next week will bring a six-act show, headlined by "A Night at the Bath," a comedy with ten people.

AT THE JEFFERSON

The Jefferson is offering a great big program tonight, consisting of two reels of pictures and four vaudeville acts. The pictures are "Gratitude," a Solax dramatic that you will find exceptionally good. The other is an Imp comedy, "The Pursuit of Jane." There is a laugh in every inch of this film. The vaudeville is headed by Bingham and Thornton, two very clever performers that took the Jefferson audience by storm on Thursday night; every number was liked and encored.

THE DROOPING FIGURE.

Wide Sash or Waistbands Are Necessary.

Drooping figures being the last word in the world of fashion, the smart woman has recently been introduced to the broad elastic ceinture guiltless of whalebone.

The ceinture allows the form to droop like a dying flower, but, alas, it brings woman face to face with the fact that her body has not been trained to support itself, so that instead of merely drooping it flops when stayless! If she is very thin the effect is quite passable, but if she is plump she abjures the ceinture after one trial and droops as best she can in her corset.

Women are far, very far, from the days of Venus de Milo, from the grace of Hypatia, and the lissome charm of the women of Nero's household. In truth, women are far from the rays when the beauty and physical form was a cult, when older women could run and jump barefooted and barearmed as easily as little children.

It is not that women do not exercise and keep themselves in good condition today. They do, but it is different exercise, with a different aim in a different life, so the drooping form and the elastic ceinture are in the nature of anachronisms and, as such, cannot stay long, though possibly they will return again and find them better prepared.

Remarkable Price Making on Ladies Fall Suits

Women who are interested in popular priced suits for Fall will do well to see the charming designs that one of our enterprising firms is showing.

This firm, which, by the way, extends the privilege of a charge account to those who desire to pay conveniently has decided to double its business on popular priced suits.

With that end in view the buyer for the Menter Co.'s large chain of stores contracted for a quantity of popular priced suits, so large that it brought the manufacturers' price down to a trifle over cost of tailoring.

Keen eyed women will note at a glance the unusual values that such severe price making offers and will be benefited thereby. Handsome Fall suits are offered at $15, $16.50, $18, $20 for cash or on easy weekly payments as the buyer may choose. The Menter store in this city is at 107-109 W. Berry street.

WICKLAND BESTS THAT COSTLY LOT

Is Showing Better Form Than Men Who Cost Clubs Big Sums.

HERRMANN PLEASED

Dayton, O., Sept. 12.—Al Wickland, for whom Garry Herrmann named his own price when asked to give him a trial by Elmer Redelle, is proving a far better big leaguer than several youngsters who cost other clubs small fortunes this season. Wickland has gotten away to a much better start with the Cincinnati club than Larry Chappel, the $18,000 White Sox recruit from Milwaukee; Fritz Maisel, the $12,000 beauty Frank Chance secured from Baltimore; Frank Gilhooley, for whom Chance paid Montreal over $6,000, or Red Walker, the outfielder who cost the St. Louis Browns a big price, Kansas City receiving several players and a goodly sum of money.

Chappell has proven the biggest disappointment of the lot. The White Sox recently asked waivers on him, but have evidently withdrawn them. Comiskey will probably try to develop him as McGraw did Marquard, Burns and others. Maisel, Gilhooley and Walker have all created favorable impressions and given promise of being worth their hire, but none of the high priced recruits measures up to Wickland.

Since he joined the Reds in the middle of August Wickland has made four triples along with several doubles and singles. He has a big league batting average of .382 in eleven games, which is over 70 points better than any member of his team can show. He is doing great work as lead-off man and in the field is showing his Central league speed, which is as good as any player can do. Elmer Redelle saw Wickland play against Boston at Cincinnati, and brought back word that all Cincinnati is pleased with the little fellow.

"Garry Herrmann can't get over the way Wickland is working," Redelle said today. "The Cincinnati boss thinks we handed him a real one. Wickland is the only outfielder the Reds have who is sure on ground balls and he is holding singles to singles right along, whereas some of the other fielders fail to do it quite often. The Red chiefs agree that Wickland has made good already, but of course he will have to keep on going good or they will change their minds."

PRESIDENT TO CINCINNATI.

President Louis Heilbroner, of the Central league, will go to Cincinnati tonight to be present at the meeting of the national commission.

BADGERS WILL HOLD PRACTICE.

The Badger football team will have its first practice Saturday afternoon at Lawton park. All candidates are requested to report at 2 o'clock.

To Stop Scaling of Psoriasis

This Troublesome Skin Disease Promptly Checkes by a very Simple Attention.

A lady in Lexington, Ky., says that before she began using S. S. S. psoriasis broke out at frequent intervals where she thought it cured. But by getting her blood under control by the influence of S. S. S., the disease entirely disappeared and there was never again the slightest sign of it.

There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from the fine network of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin, is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. The great Swift Laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., prepares this famous blood purifier, and you should take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist freely, address the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Company, 182 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

DOUGHERTY QUIT HIS MOVIE ROLE

Refused to "Lay" Down in Picture and Tore Off His Gloves.

WANTED STAR PART

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 12. Hobo Dougherty, former sparring partner of Ad Wolgast, has abandoned his career as a moving picture artist. Had he lingered longer he might have imprinted himself indelibly upon the tablets of fame—and gelatin.

Hobo wrenched himself away from his art when the plot of the play demanded that he "lie down" in a prize fight play to his ancient enemy, Kid Dalton. This was too much to do even for art.

Up to this time Hobo had covered himself with distinction. He used to carry the camera tripods from place to place with an "air" and "tang" that no one else has ever attained. Why, sir, to witness Hobo in the act of lugging around the camera in the wake of the movie operator was to have ascended the starry heights of estheticism.

But that was not all. Hobo was cast for several character parts. Once he took the part of a waiter and had to throw Fred Mace out of the restaurant. Another time he took the part of an expressman. Hobo was progressing in his art when the end came.

The directors of the company announced that a prize fight would be the next drama and Hobo plucked up his ears expectantly. He was a little disgusted to learn that Kid Dalton had been engaged especially to play the part of the other prize fighter but he reflected that it takes two to make a prize fight and some one must be there to be licked in the end of the drama.

When it came to that part of the play they got Hobo and the Kid into their prize fight togs and planted them in front of the camera.

"Now," said the director briskly, to Hobo, "you lead with your left and he right crosses you. You take a poke in the jaw and go down and the referee counts you out."

"You mean he takes the poke in the jaw and is counted out," corrected Hobo easily, quite amused to think the director should make such a slip of the tongue."

"No, Hobo," said the director, firmly, "you take a poke in the jaw and the referee counts you out."

"Me take a sprawl. Me flop to that wop!" shrieked Hobo. "Whas the matter wit you? Are you coocoo?"

"It's that way in the play," protested the director.

"Well, change the play," yelled Hobo. "I ain't going to flop to nobody I kin lick with one hand."

"We can't change the play," said the director, shortly. "Come on now; take your poke, and go down."

"Well, I'll tell you what I'll do," said Hobo, "I'll flip up a nickel with him to see who has to flop."

"No," said the director, "you've got to flop."

"Then you can get another actor," said Hobo, tearing off the gloves. And thus passed another great career from the public eye.

SILLY GIRL LOST A RING.

Schemer Impersonated Art Fletcher and Ball Player Is Peeved.

Shortstop Fletcher, of the New York Giants, would like to catch the miscreant who goes about impersonating him. If Fletch meets up with this person there will be something doing. When the Giants were in Chicago recently Fletcher had an odd experience. On the morning of the third day in the Windy city he received a note from a young lady who wrote that she wanted her diamond ring back, and why didn't he meet her yesterday to take her to the ball game as he promised? Now, Fletcher is a happily married man and he didn't propose to get entangled in any such affairs. The writer of the letter stated she would be on a certain corner at noon. Fletcher and Fred Snodgrass went there, and seeing a young lady waiting on the corner, they made themselves known.

"Why, you're not Mr. Fletcher," said the girl.

"Yes, I'm Fletcher," responded the shortstop grimly, "but not the guy who has been deceiving you. Tell me about him. I'd like to meet him."

"We've both been imposed upon, then," sobbed the girl. "Two days ago I met a young man who said he was Fletcher, of the Giants. He was well dressed and seemed to have plenty of money to spend. He told me he was stopping at the Auditorium hotel, and later in the evening he put my diamond ring on his finger and asked if he could wear it until the next noon, when he was to meet me here and taken me to the ball game. He did not show up, and then I wrote the letter."

"He better not show up now," either," roared Fletch as he cast baleful glances here and there, hoping the imposter might happen along just then. "I'm very sorry, young lady, but you're out one diamond ring and I owe somebody a beating. But you've had an experience that should teach you something. Good day."

RIVALS IN GREAT WORLD'S SERIES

Brown, Most Dependable of Connie Mack's Young Pitchers, May Oppose Jeff Tesreau, McGraw's Giant Spit Ball Pitcher.

Carrol Brown, the sterling young pitcher of the Athletics, and Jeff Tesreau, the Giants' spit ball pitcher, will probably face each other in the world's series.

There isn't much chance for comparison between them, although Brown has won more games for the Athletics this year than Tesreau has won for the Giants. Both are far above the ordinary, and if Brown can stand the strain of a big series should put up a stiff battle when called upon.

TWO WORLD'S SERIES LIMELIGHTERS, BROWN OF THE ATHLETICS, AND TESREAU, OF THE GIANTS.

STAHL DIDN'T GET PLACE.

It is probable that Jake Stahl's announcement that he would retire for good from baseball from the time of his release as manager of the Boston Americans is true. It is said he was slated for the St. Louis Browns but announcement is made of the selection of Branch Rickey.

HOT STOVE TIME FOR SOUTH BEND

Players Are Returning After Season in the Minor Leagues.

NESPO GETS A BOOST

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 12.—One by one the members of South Bend's winter colony of baseball players are arriving in the city. No less than eight leaguers are either here or have stopped for a few hours to chat with friends.

The men who have returned to South Bend are: Eddie Wheeler, manager of the Beaumont team of the Texas league; Ed Smith, manager of the pennant-winning Grand Rapids club; John "Buck" Connors, first baseman Rockford, Ill.; Claffey Corbett, pitcher, Winnipeg, Can., team of the Northern league; Frank Nespo, of the Fort Wayne club, and E. J. Anderson, manat Terre Haute.

Out of this numbers Smith and Nespo had the most successful seasons. Smith pitched and managed for the Black Sox, while Nespo has been one of the big noises of the Billiken infield. Smith is expected to be the premier twirler of the Central this year and if he does not land the first place he is sure of second.

He has but one rival who has a chance at the honors and that is Tommy Atkins, the Fort Wayne hurler. During the last few weeks of the season these two pitchers fought hard. It was a close race and fans are waiting with interest for the official records from President Louis Heilbroner's office.

Nespo has had the Fort Wayne followers with him ever since he joined the club. The little fellow has been displaying the best of baseball this year. Last year was his first year in Central league company when he wore the uniform of the Green Sox.

Now that quite a few of the old guards are back, arrangements have been made to have the bunch get together again in uniform. Sunday afternoon this combination of leaguers will go to Michigan City to meet George Tieman's club. Tieman will do the catching for his club, Nespo will probably be at short and Wells, a local lad, will hold down his regular place at third.

The line-up for the locals will be: Madden, Smith, Corbett, pitchers; Wernitz, catcher; Schock, first base; Wheeler, second base; Claffey, third base; Koehler, shortstop; Anderson, left field; Coffe, center field; Connors, right field.

GIRLS CANCEL THE DANCERS.

Princeton, W. V., Sept. 12.—The young women of this city are simon-pure baseball fans. They have pledged themselves to abandon dancing until the baseball season closes because they realize the boys cannot dance half the night and then make good in a hotly contested game of ball the next day.

All dances have been called off until after the baseball season closes by these patriotic feminine Princetonians.

FABRIQUE HAD A BIG DAY.

In the Wednesday game at Jersey City Bunny Fabrique, of the Providence club, was up five times, made two runs, three hits, four putouts and three assists, and one of his hits was a double.

RICH INDIAN TO HUSTLE FOR JOB

Cherokee Has Wealth to Fall Back on if He Fails in Game.

HE IS FLEET OF FOOT

New York, Sept. 12.—The majority of ball players are in the national game for the amount of money they can get out of it; others play it because of their love for the national pastime. Ben Tincup belongs to the latter class. Tincup, perchance you don't know, is the new Cherokee Indian pitcher the Phillies have added to their twirling staff. He hails from the Sherman team of Texas, and is said to be the richest ball player in the world.

When the Indian becomes of age next April his yearly income will soon exceed the salary of the president of the United States. He already has $20,000 stored away in a bank, besides being the possessor of 400 acres of valuable oil lands in Oklahoma. So if Tincup fails to make good in the big league he won't have any cause to worry.

Since he is one of the few remaining Cherokee Indians, all the lands are held in trust for him. As soon as he is 21 years old he will go to Washington, to collect the dividends which are accumulating. As Tincup's allotment of land was among the oil fields he is wealthier than many of the other survivors of the Cherokee tribe.

Tincup, characteristic of the Indian, is fleet of foot. At the ball park in Philadelphia the Indian surprised Doolin. The Indian is like a deer on his feet, and as a batter possesses the natural grace of a batter of ability.

RIGLER THE WORST UMPIRE.

Does Not Mind In the Least Being Told It by Ball Players.

Umpire Rigler, of the National league, refuses to become angry when told that he is the worst umpire in the organization. He has been told this so frequently that he no longer feels the sting of the criticism.

During the Pirates recent stay in Boston Manager Clarke, of Pittsburg, became indignant at some of Rigler's decisions.

"You are positively the worst umpire in the National league," said Fred Clarke bluntly, as he walked up to Cy Rigler immediately after the game. "And not only that," continued the boss of the Pirates, "but you are the very worst umpire I ever laid my eyes on in any other league, and I've seen some that were pretty fierce at that."

Rigler then admitted to Clarke that he had been told by every club around the circuit that he was the worst official on the staff and hence the information volunteered by the Pittsburg pilot was not new to him.

"Well, then," retorted Fred, "you see that my opinion is correct, for it is backed up by that of the other seven clubs."

DIDN'T TAKE BOWMAN ALONG.

Abe Bowman did not make the eastern trip with the Cleveland American league club, being left at Cleveland to recuperate fully from a slight attack of summer influenza which followed close upon his joining Birmingham's team.

PREPARING FOR THE BANQUET

Pennsylvania Veterans Will Have Special Train to Chicago.

LABOR'S SHARE OF R. R. DOLLAR

In Cost of Operating Railroads 44.17 Per Cent. Goes to Employes.

The executive committee of the Pennsylvania Employes' Veteran association, which is composed of George Miller, chairman; C. E. Brownsberger, H. V. Anders, J. W. M. Ehrman and J. B. Brown, will hold a meeting this evening to complete arrangements for the annual meeting and banquet of the vets, which will be held in Chicago Saturday, September 20. The field has been canvassed with a view of ascertaining how many veterans from Fort Wayne and points west will attend the banquet, in order that ample facilities in the way of train service can be provided. The result has been that about 150 men from this city and fifty from other points have signified a desire to go to the meeting. This number can be handled in three coaches and a train with that many cars has been ordered for the occasion. The train will be hauled to Chicago by "Isabel," the Western division special engine, and sh ewill be appropriately decorated for the occasion. A number plate which is a fac simile of the emblem button of the vets, will take the place of the regular number plate on "Isabel" on that occasion and there will be other features to distinguish her from the ordinary locomotive when she pulls out of Fort Wayne with the special train. Thomas Glenn, who has accepted the invitation to preside as toastmaster at the banquet, has not announced the list of those upon whom he will call for speeches and he may not make it public, as the trend is towards an informal program, with no "chief speaker," as on former occasions. President H. B. Reynolds said that the attendance at the banquet would probably be over 200. A number of members will not be able to get away from their duties, though effort will be made to relieve as many as possible on that day. The membership is steadily increasing and will reach the 300 point by the 20th, the date of the banquet.

HOW TO GET FAT

Use Samose, Says Druggists Meyer Bros. Co., and Put On Good Flesh.

The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of a simple and scientific method of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restoring health.

Athletics, when carried to an extreme, often result in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to regain health, strength and flesh by using Samose. This flesh forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extract the flesh forming elements; it builds up the muscles and rounds out the limbs into shapely plumpness.

Samose has been so successful in making thin people fat and restoring the weak and run down to strength and health that Meyer Bros. Co., the popular druggists, sell it under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit. adv.

PASSENGER AGENTS CHANGE NAME

The American Association of Passenger Agents, which just completed its annual convention at St. Paul, voted to change the name of the organization to the American Association of Traveling Passenger Agents. R. T. G. Matthews, of Kansas City, was elected president; M. F. Bragg, of Norfolk, W. Va., vice president; R. T. Monett, Chicago, secretary-treasurer, re-elected. Next meeting will be held in San Francisco.

GRAPE SHIPMENTS ARE LIGHT.

Word has been sent out from the grape-growing districts of Western New York that the crop is smaller this year than for any of the preceding years of the decade. Last year from that territory over 7,500 carloads were sent west and south, but this year the shipments will not exceed 4,000 carloads. The Nickel Plate does a good business in freight traffic when the crop is good.

TWO IMMIGRANT TRAINS.

Two heavily laden special trains bearing German and Swedish immigrants passed through the city over the Nickel Plate last night. One ran as the second section of train No. 3 and the other passed over the line about midnight. These people are from the agricultural districts of their native countries and will settle on the farm lands of the west and northwest.

HELPING SICK COMRADE.

The engineers and firemen at Peru are playing ball for the benefit of a sick fireman. A few days ago the first game came off and the gate receipts were considerable. Next Friday the second game will be played and the engineers and firemen hope to raise a much larger sum. They have gotten out tickets, which sell readily when the object is explained. This is a very commendable work.

P. F. MINER RESIGNS.

P. F. Miner, notice of whose appointment to the city police force has been made by the Sentinel, resigned his position at the Pennsylvania power plant last night and he will assume his duties on the police force in a day or two. Mr. Miner worked eighteen months as a fireman at the power plant. Previous to that service he was for awhile a member of Captain H. C. Stoll's force of patrolmen, on the Pennsylvania.

INSTALLING NEW MACHINERY.

The millwrights at the Pennsylvania shops are getting ready to install another machine—an automatic lathe—in the machine shop. A new boiler for heating purposes is also being installed at the east car shops, taking the place of a smaller one.

RECEIVED GASH IN SCALP.

W. H. Wiebke, a boilermaker at the Pennsylvania shops, received a gash in the top of his head yesterday when a piece of pipe fell and struck him. He was attended by the company surgeon and will be off duty several days.

ARM BADLY LACERATED.

While operating a milling machine in the machine shop of the Fort Wayne Electric works at 5:45 o'clock last evening Wayne Burnett got his left forearm in the machinery and a great portion of flesh was gouged out a few inches below the elbow. Fortunately the bone was not broken. Dr. F. J. Schultz, who attended the young man, had to take six stitches in getting the lacerated parts together.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by Meyer Bros. Co. under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

REST AND EXERCISE.

vigorous extent that she let out a resounding bellow that brought an answering echo from the boys out on the lake who wanted to know what was the matter. I didn't answer. I was busy thinking about other things. I didn't know, when I poked bossy with the fishpole that those cows had a gentleman friend in the neighborhood, but he was there all right, and he came tearing through the underbrush and arrived on the scene in short order. I lay still and didn't stir. 'Maybe,' said I, as the bull took a census of his family, 'you would like one, too,' whereupon I reached out and picked up a clod of dirt which I threw at him and struck him. Well, say, I didn't suppose I could gather myself up so quickly and get somewhere else! Before I knew it, I was dodging among the trees, and somehow or other I got up into one of them so fast as to make my head swim. There I sat, taking a birdseye view of that bull for a good long time, while he snorted exclamation points and defiant question marks. Finally, it came time for him to go home to supper, which he did, regretfully, and I came down. The boys had watched the procedure from their boat, but they wouldn't come to my rescue."

REROUTE INTERURBAN CARS.

Change Made Necessary by Elevation of Wabash at Broadway.

Owing to the work of track elevation at Broadway and the Wabash railroad tracks it will be necessary for the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company to change its schedule for cars over the Bluffton and Muncie division. Beginning September 15, interurban cars for Bluffton will be operated by way of Main and Calhoun strets and Creighton avenue to Broadway. The cars will also leave the station fifteen minutes earlier than at present. The change will in no way affect the Huntington and Peru division of the road.

J. Allen Greenland, general passenger and freight agent, declares that traffic over the Huntington division has been record-breaking on account of the fair at Huntington. Officials of the fair declare that the attendance is exceeding their fondest expectations.

DRESS ATTRACTIONS for the WEEK END

Stylish Exclusive Models Showing Perfection in Tailoring and Design at Extraordinary Low Prices

The pre-eminence of our Suit and Cloak Section was never so strongly emphasized as in this instance. The models are exclusive, the trimming conceits are the product of the most artistic minds engaged in the making of women's apparel. The tailoring and the finish of the garments show plainly what wonderful values they are at these prices. The line is complete now—Saturday would be a splendid day for your visit to this Section.

ALL WOOL SERGES

Three grades under this head. One model in Copenhagen or Navy shows braid trimmed Collar and Peplum, further trimmed as to collar and cuffs with a beautiful Persian Velour. Skirt is nicely draped, and there is a sewed on belt of the same material.

Another model is a Misses' Outing Dress, or Street Dress, of Navy Blue Serge, plainly tailored. Two pockets with buttoned flaps, feature the skirt, while the belt of the same material is buckled for adjustment. A Windsor tie or Plaid Silk gives the only color touch.

Still another model has an odd and beautiful designed waist and button arrangement, with loops for fastening. The buttons and the velvet tie are of Cardinal shade and the neat plain lines of the skirt are very pleasing.

$6.50 — $7.50 — $8.50

Two Toned BedfordCord, French Serge and Wool Eponge

These three materials are used for a most handsome line of medium priced dresses. The models are the same and the trimming identical throughtout the entire range. Simple elegance is the keynote, and it is secured by artistic tailoring. They have the new drop sleeve, satin covered buttons, small satin collar and satin girdle. The skirt is draped as only the skilled tailor can drape it $12.50

WIDE WALE SERGE

These models come in either Blue or Wine Color. The design is the Tunic effect, showing the prettiest cut-away lines. The belt is sewed on. The buttons are fancy and the front trimming is left to the ornate loops. It has three-quarter sleeves and handsome draped skirt. The collar is of a peculiarly rich braid in Oriental colors..... $18.50

Holland Hats for Misses and Middle Aged Ladies

A noted philosopher, who dearly loved the strawberry, was heard to remark: "Doubtless the Creator could have made a better berry than the strawberry, but doubtless, the Creator never did." We are moved to say this for Holland Hats; some other maker might possibly be able to make a more stylish, a more suitable, a ore handsome hat for the woman of middle age, but it is absolutely certain that no maker ever did.

To the wonderful record attained in the making of these Hats the Holland shop has now added a new one. Their Misses' Hats show the same profound knowledge of human nature, the same intuition, the same artistic appreciation that characterizes the older hats. They are girl's Hats. No one could mistake them for anything else, and they embody in their splendid lines every style feature of the season.

Our showing of both lines is very complete. Scores of exclusive models are on display, and every one is hand made and trimmed at the Holland shop. See them Saturday.

In France experiments are being made with an iron-plated road with the view of discovering some form of road surface which is suitable to withstand the wear and tear of modern traffic. The planting consists of the introduction of fine pieces of iron, something of the character of the refuse from lathes and similar metal-cutting machines, which are incorporated with the top dressing of the roadbed, and the result is a hard and yet elastic roadway, which is capable of severe wear.

PRECIOUS BLOOD SERVICES.

Rev. Schlachter Delivers Sermon on "Hell."

A large audience listened intently to the sermon of Rev. Godfrey Schlachter at the mission services at the Precious Blood church last night. The subject of the address was a discourse on "Hell." Father Heidmann's subject was "Satisfaction" and regarded the sacrament of penance. The young men of the parish will go to confession this afternoon and evening, and will receive holy communion tomorrow morning. The confessions of the young ladies were heard yesterday afternoon. FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP---25 CENT DANDERINE

Girls! Girls! Save your hair Make it grow luxuriant and beautiful.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?—Adv.

HAMILTON NEVER STOPPED TO SEE

Testified That He Did Not Know Whether Officer Shot at Him.

STOLE SOME HEN EGGS

"Were you ever arrested before?" asked Deputy Prosecutor Frank R. Dulin of Walter Hamilton, a negro on trial in the circuit court for stealing thirty dozen eggs from the Wabash company.

"Just once," was the reply.

"Who got you then?"

"Mr. Pappert."

"Now, Walter, is it not a fact that Ward Hall arrested you once and took you to the police station?"

"No, sir."

"Why didn't you go with him."

"I didn't have no business down there."

"Well, didn't you break and run."

"Yes, sir."

"Now Walter, didn't Mart Madden get you one time?"

"He didn't get me exactly."

"Well, didn't you run and didn't he shoot at you?"

"Well, I guess I run all right, but I never looked around to see who he was shooting at. I was in a hurry."

The trial was about closed late this afternoon and the negro is charged with a previous conviction. The specific charge is made in the affidavit that the eggs he stole were hen eggs. In looking over the Indiana decisions on thefts of this kind Prosecutor Harry Hilgemann found a man was acquitted in the higher courts because the kind of eggs was not specified. The judge held they might have been snake eggs, bird eggs or some other brand of no value.

Asks for $3,000 Damages.

Mark Heath, as guardian for Adam Leroy Heath, has entered suit in the circuit court against F. Howenstein, R. Mix and J. C. Howenstein, doing business as the Fort Wayne Provision company, asking $3,000 damages for personal injuries.

He alleges in his complaint that his ward was run down at Main and Center streets by an automobile belonging to the company and that his spine was injured, his ribs broken and he will be permanently disabled. The lad is ten years old and the charge is made that the driver was exceeding the speed limit and that he sounded no warning at the street crossing. C. B. Aldrich and William C. Ryan filed the suit.

Didn't Have to Wait Long.

When Justice Michael Tancey performed a marriage ceremony at Robison park last Sunday he saw a couple sitting together in one of the stands and jokingly asked if they didn't want to be married.

"You won't have to wait long for us," was the retort of the young man. They were married by the justice today and the names are Samuel J. Wilkens, 18, a marker in a laundry, and Leanna B. Ammeter.

Given Decree.

Elizabeth Jones was granted a divorce from Herman Jones in the superior court.

Killens Break in Again.

George Killen this afternoon sued Carrie Killen for $175 rent which he claims is due him for premises at 120 West Main street. They have had two or three sensational divorce suits and were finally divorced.

COLLEGE STREET OPEN TO PUBLIC

Sidewalks Completed and Other Public Work is Progressing.

NEWS OF CITY HALL

Sidewalks under the Pennsylvania tracks at College street were completed by the Brooks Construction company this morning and all of the work of grade separation is complete there and the entire subway is open to the public.

Brick has been laid in the driveway at Union street and tomorrow morning the work of pouring the filler will be taken up and if the weather is favorable the driveway will be open on Sunday and the work of putting down the sidewalks will be taken up and these will be done by Wednesday of next week.

The Grace Construction company has completed the grading of College street from Jones to Berry, Poplar street and of Lewis street from Harrison to Ewing. Work has been taken up on McClelland street and it will be done by next Wednesday.

This company has also finished the concrete work on Hoagland avenue and on Beaver avenue from Kinnaird south.

On Wells street from Archer avenue to Pfeiffer avenue the grading has been finished by the Moellering Construction company and stone is being hauled ready to begin putting in the concrete.

Twenty cars of brick were received last night by the company and today teams were engaged in hauling it to complete the paving of Monroe and Clay streets.

At Broadway and the Wabash tracks the Beers-Offut Construction company has about finished the forms for the center piers and on Monday will begin pouring the concrete with a prospect of finishing the work by the end of next week.

Board of Works Routine.

Huestis avenue residents are endeavoring to get property owners to sign waivers so that the street can be paved twenty-two instead of twenty-four feet. The contract has been let and the matter was submitted at the meeting last night of the board of public works. Petitioners were informed that no changes can be made without proper waivers.

Plans were ordered for the elimination of jogs at Broadway and Taylor streets, Baker and Harrison, Harrison and Killea and Weisser Park avenue and Buchanan street. If the cost is not prohibitive the work may be taken up.

Board members arranged to make a tour of inspection of all grade crossings with a view of having them put in good repair.

Petitions were received for paving Killea avenue, from Calhoun to Hoagland, and opening Barr street, from the south line of Ormiston's heirs' addition to Piqua avenue.

Remonstrances were filed against the paving of the alley between Jefferson and Washington streets, Monroe to Hanna, and against the paving of Hayden street, Hanna to Walton.

Assessment rolls were confirmed for paving the alley between DeWald and Creighton avenues, Harrison to Hoagland, Davis street, Main to Berry, and Wildwood avenue, Calhoun to Webster.

Assessment rolls were confirmed as follows:

Sewer in alley between Winter and Lillie streets, Simons street to the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western railroad; paving alley between Creighton and Tabor, Webster to Hoagland; paving alley between Wayne and Washington, Barr to Lafayette, and paving Lawton place, Spy Run to St. Joe river.

FOUND THE LOOT IN DOG'S HOUSE

Police Recover Part of Goods Stolen by Dunlap and Companion.

HAD MERRY SMOKERS

What was left of fifteen or twenty boxes of cigarettes, two boxes of cigars, some cakes and four boxes of candy were found by Detective Sergeant Pappert in a dog house in the rear of a Creighton avenue residence and represented the loot stolen by Ralph Dunlap and a companion from the Zickgraff grocery, at South Wayne and Cottage avenues, and the Victor pool room at Fairfield avenue and DeWald street.

Part of the stolen money was recovered at the time of the arrest of Dunlap, but until today he would not tell whether the other stuff was stolen. Dunlap and his companions held several merry smokers in a shed on the same lot as the dog house.

Have Not Found Money.

The police have been unable to find any trace of the money that Ben Marconi says was stolen from him on an interurban car last night. He reported that on his way from Kingsland, where he runs a boarding house, to Fort Wayne, $375 was taken from him.

Made a Late Report.

Miss Nay Carr, 1014 Broadway, did not report until last night that Tuesday afternoon she was knocked down by a man who entered her house and robbed her of a diamond ring and $10 in cash. She had advertised the ring for sale and says a man asked to look at it and made off with it.

To cool the air far underground and thereby permit the miners to work longer shifts the owners of a German coal mine compress air at the surface of the ground and pipe it through the workings.

Secretary of Labor Wilson Charged With Strike in Coal Field.

WEST VIRGINIA PROBE

Washington, Sept. 12.—In support of their attempt to show an unlawful conspiracy between the United Mine Workers and coal operators of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, to stop the production of "cheap coal" in West Virginia, attorneys for the West Virginia operators today brought in the name of William B. Wilson, secretary of labor.

In 1902 Wilson was national secretary of the United Mine Workers. D. C. Kennedy, now secretary of the Kanawha Coal association, testified that Wilson, in that capacity, at a miners' meeting in Huntington, ordered a strike in West Virginia fields.

"Mr. Wilson told us a strike was necessary in West Virginia to win their strike in Pennsylvania," testified Kennedy.

He added that during the recent strike on Paint and Cabin creeks the miners in West Virginia raised $6,000, while miners outside the state contributed $139,000. Kennedy testified that "Mother" Jones was paid $1,368 from June to November last year, according to the accounts of the mine workers.

"Do you know of a single operator in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana or Illinois, who has contributed a penny to organize West Virginia," demanded Attorney Bache, for the United Mine Workers. Kennedy admitted he did not and also that mine owners in four other states had fought unionizing West Virginia. The attorney read excerpts from conference reports to bear that out.

IMPERATOR TO HAVE SISTER.

Active Preparation for Construction Going on at Hamburg.

London, Sept. 12.—The Times announces that active preparations have been made in Hamburg for the construction of a sister ship to the Hamburg-American line's Imperator and Vaterland, and that keels have been laid for several smaller vessels for the same line. It is said the Olympic will be off duty from the end of December till the first week in February and the Imperator during November, December and part of January will be at Humburg. The reason given is the necessity for overhauling the vessels.

DIARRHOEA QUICKLY CURED.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it, I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriole, Pa. That is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

SEPTEMBER 14—THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

Lesson Text, Exodus 20:12-21. Golden Text, Luke 10:27: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself.

Last week we considered the first four commandments. The remaining six are like unto them. The handwriting is the same. One applies to the top of the mountain, the other to the bottom. Life begins at home. There character receives its first impressions, and the world is only home moved farther on. One's father is his first introduction to God. To childish fancy there is no one so great as he. In this we have an illustration of our relationship to God. Many see in this a reason for the special sanctity that attaches itself to the fifth commandment. It is as if God had said: "Honor thy father and thy mother, for they are types of me." This brings the parents within the circle of obligation. It touches alike father and child. No unworthiness can sever this relation.

Regard for Parental Control Leads to Correct Life.

The promise attached to this command was in a measure due to the social fabric of Judaism. The nation rested upon the family. Disobedience to parents was destructive of law. If the nation, as such, was to stand there must be a reverence for the basis on which it was built. Apart from this, regard for parental control naturally leads to a correct life. The laws of health suffer no transgression. Young men sometimes plunge into excesses against their fathers' counsel. The result is early death or, what is worse, an old age embittered by remorse. "The sins and faults of youth" remain in their effects long after God may have forgiven them.

The sixth commandment follows the fifth in close succession. Whoever shortens life, whether his own or that of another, is in a sense guilty of crime. And yet the deadly fruit of murder hangs on almost every bush. The great, feverish public forces an industrial competition that is ever grinding out its grist of death. The sanctity in which life is held is the truest test of civilization. As the age advances men hesitate more and more to kill, even in the name of law. Less than two hundred years ago there were 160 offenses in England punishable by death; gradually, however, the terrible list has been reduced to two. Moses would teach the sanctity of life to a people whose civilization was of the most primitive kind. They had no courts of justice such as we know, and in case of murder the nearest male relative became the avenger of blood. His obligation was to slay the slayer. No modification of punishment was possible. "He shall surely be put to death." In those days such punishment was necessary, and such is the penalty usually attached to murder still. But in some states life imprisonment has come to be recognized as its legal substitute.

Conditions determine punishment. Jesus dealt with causes as well as with effects. He would destroy the gallows by destroying the steps that lead to it. Anger is incipient murder. From Cain down the red line of blood trails the course of hate. Murder is a crime of the heart because it is in the heart that the deed has its birth.

Seventh Commandment Preserves the Sanctity of the House.

The seventh commandment find its origin in the same source. Moses would deal with the sin. Jesus would deal with the spirit of which the sin was but the expression. Other and deeper reasons than the good of society underlie the moral law. Man was made in the likeness of God. Whatever defaces the picture wrongs the artist. Adultery is an attack upon family life. God in the government of Israel would set forth certain ideas in the relation of man to man, and among these was the ideal of home. Whatever strikes the home strikes him. Jesus also gave this command its rightful interpretation. It might be broken in thought as well as in act. This sin has its origin in the swamp. It is the home of the vampire. The seventh commandment is a tape line by which one measures his distance from the beasts. And on no sin perhaps does the devil bestow greater care. He clothes it in the most fascinating literature and opens a thousand gates to its approach. A single step in that direction is likely to be fatal.

Then follows the law against stealing. The right of property is sacred, but property does not always consist in goods or money. Our most priceless possessions have no quotation in the markets of the world. Society is possible only through exchange, and the one who takes more than he gives is to that extent a thief. He has that for which no equivalent was ever paid. Theft wears a thousand masks; borrowing is one of the most common. The diference between borrowing and stealing is one of method. The thief operates at night, while the borrower prefers the day. Stealing is confined to no occupation. The office and the field and office facilities. The man who agrees to work seven hours and loiters one is selling calico by a short yardstick. A broken commandment is a poor staff to lean upon. Dishonesty is as fatal to business as it is to morals. Few men have ever stolen themselves rich. A pair of wings sprout on every dishonest dollar. One must be honest in his particular business if he expects to gain success in it.

False Witness Bearer Guilty of Theft of Neighbor's Reputation.

False witness bearing presents unbounded opportunity for theft. To bear false witness against one's neighbor does not necessarily imply a court of justice. The most dangerous perjury goes on in the open court of life. Reputation is about all that some people have. Destroy that and they are poor indeed. Character is largely within our own power, but reputation is the creation of others. The two form the man.

At the base of the decalogue lies the command against covetousness. It smites the entire law and breaks all by a single stroke. Theft and murder are but its expression. Trace sin to its source and there covetousness, like a serpent, lurks to destroy.

God had visited the earth. The roar of thunder and the mountain aflame proclaimed his presence. He came again, not amid smoke and fire, but surrounded by angles and singing stars. In the one instance he bore the law, in the other the gospel; in the one he spoke to men through Moses, in the other he spoke to them through the Christ.

Alphonse S. Corbat, for more than forty years a resident of Allen county, and one of the best known men of Aboite township, died at 12:05 o'clock this afternoon at St. Joseph's hospital at the age of fifty-nine years. Death was due to complications and followed an illness that first appeared in March, when Mr. Corbat, with his family, moved to Fort Wayne.

Mr. Corbat was born in Switzerland, February 13, 1854, and came to this country with his parents at the age of five years. The family located on a farm in Huntington county. Forty-two years ago Mr. Corbat came to Fort Wayne, and two years later purchased the farm in Aboite township, near Arcola, where he had resided continuously until retiring a few months ago. After coming to the city he built a handsome new residence at 1711 Hale avenue. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic church at Arcola and was widely known. Surviving besides his wife he leaves six sons and one daughter, Frank, Joseph, Julian, Albert, James, Robert and Miss Mary Corbat, all of Arcola. GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Just a flash of strength showed itself today in wheat. Then the market gave way under selling by larger commission concerns and private wire houses. The opening was unchanged to ⅛c higher. The ensuing decline carried prices sharply under last night's level.

The close was nervous at a net advance of ⅛@⅛c to ⅜c.

General rains weakened corn. Prices at the outset were ⅛@⅜c off and a further drop followed.

The close was nervous, ⅛c to ⅛c under last night.

Speculators hammered the oats market downward. Fear of Canadian imports gave the bears an advantage.

Lower prices for hogs made the provision market easy. First sales were a shade to 7½@10c cheaper, and there was a subsequent additional setback.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 12.—There was active buying of the Harriman stocks which lifted them large fractions at the opening today. Through the list in general changes were unusually small. Offerings were well taken and the undertone was firm. Reading, which opened slightly lower, advanced nearly a point on the first few transactions. Virginia-Carolina Chemical rose 2½.

Technical conditions favored the brisk advance in stocks, which continued through the forenoon. A considerable short interest had been built upon the strength of the unfavorable interpretation placed upon recent political, financial and crop conditions, and when these influences lost their potency bears were compelled to retire their contracts with the tide of prices strongly against them. Outlook for a large wheat yield was responsible for the broad demand for the western stocks. Bonds were steady.

THREE GET SENTENCES.

Andy Dunlap Draws 90 Days and Two Foreigners Each Get 60 Days.

Andrew Dunlap, a young fellow who in spite of his years is already quite accomplished in the art of petty thievery, was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to ninety days in jail in the city court this morning for stealing $10 at the home of Mrs. Clara Mossbammer, 835 East Creighton avenue. The young man confessed to Detective Sergeants Pappert and Hall yesterday. In addition to the theft for which he was sentenced this morning Dunlap confessed that he had a part in recent robberies at the Victoria poolroom on DeWald street and the Zickgraf grocery at South Wayne and Cottage avenues.

Mike Miller and Sam Miller, two wops, were fined $1 and costs and sentenced to sixty days in jail for petit larceny. The fellows were boarders at the home of Andrew Kovitch, 1835 Smith street, and while Mrs. Kovitch let her purse lay on the table while she went to a nearby grocery the fellows picked up the purse, which contained $25. Fifteen dollars of that amount was returned this morning.

Judge Mungovan gave Tom O'Hearn a surprise when, after Tom refused to testify because he thought he'd have to go to jail anyway, the judge dismissed the case.

LOOKIN GOVER RUINS.

Nickel Plate Officials Are at Stony Island.

President W. H. Canniff, General Manager A. W. Johnston and Supt. H. N. Williams, of the Nickel Plate, have been at Stony Island for two or three days, looking over the ruins of the fire and planning for rebuilding or taking some other action for handling the engine repair work of the company. The buildings of the locomotive department of the shops were completely destroyed and the machinery, as well as ten locomotives, was badly damaged by fire and water. No repair work is possible at the Stony Island shops for several weeks and the company will have to send it elsewhere. The officials are expected to pass through the city tonight or tomorrow on their way to Cleveland.

At the age of ten she gave her heart to God, confessing her Savior under the ministry of Elder F. A. Thomas, becoming a faithful church worker and Sunday school attendant. She attended the public schools of Newville township until her graduation in the spring of 1912. Having finished the first year of high school at Butler, Ind., she expected to complete the remaining three years and with this in view the operation was performed that she might regain the use of her hand, but the Heavenly Father, who doeth all things well, called her to the home not made with hands, eternal in the heavens, leaving this earthly tabernacle to dwell in the mansions of glory. Because of her cheerful, sunny disposition she counted her friends by the score especially among schoolmates and Sunday school associates, who with the immediate relatives, the father, mother, two brothers and two sisters, are left to cherish her memory, one brother—Bird—having departed this life April 12, 1911. Funeral services were held Sept. 4 at the Christian church by Elder F. A. Thomas, of Auburn; burial in Forest Home at Hicksville, O.
